a 5 month period in 2020. Apparently, abuse thrives in isolation and is not limited to just urban areas (see above graph) but happens here in small town and rural America daily.
 Recognizing the ongoing problem, Safe Passage has visual reminders of the domestic violence issue and local service available. Banners and purple ribbons (purple is the designated color for domestic violence) have been hung at the local parks, common areas and downtown areas as a reminder of the community problem. Electronic signs with messages about the special designation will scroll at several banks and city or community signs throughout the month. Coffee shops in the area will post stickers on coffee sleeves as a reminder. Local media interviews have been scheduled, along with social media posts. Community partners, such as law enforcement, churches and businesses, will also be recognized in appreciation for their support to help curb or end the violence.
 Safe and healthy relationships impacts youth also. Safe Passage's district-wide youth council will have daily announcements and signs throughout schools about healthy relationships, and conduct collection drives for the shelter and victims. Halloween theme activities are planned as well, such as the Batesville Trunk or Treat on Oct. 22, that the youth team are engaged in throughout the district. Local citizens are also encouraged to post or tag a picture on Oct. 21 which is National Wear Purple Day; send to Safe Passage's social media: Facebook.com/safepassageinc and on Instagram @helphealinghope.

 As Jane Yorn has often said "We are all in this together." Helping some of our neediest residents makes for a better, safer community for all.
 Safe Passage, which also operates Safe Place, a sexual assault crisis center, provides confidential and comprehensive services for free. For more information, go to the website at www.safepassageinc.org or call 812-933-1990 or 877 733-1990.
